Introducing

A NEW GENERATION OF QUALITY

RTE HULLED

Hemp
SEEDS

There's Never Been a Time When Food Safety's Been More Important Than Now...

River Valley Specialty Farms is a trusted supplier of Ready-to-Eat (RTE) hemp seed. As both the grower & processor of RTE hemp, we ensure quality and consistency while offering competitive pricing, and prompt service. We use innovative Gentle Processing™ to ensure pathogen-free RTE ingredients – a method of pasteurization that results in a certified, validated 5-log reduction in salmonella.

This means improved shelf life, a pure taste, and hemp that's as nutritious as nature intended. We produce the safest, highest quality farm-fresh hemp available to our families and yours. Backed by advanced food safety and quality certifications, we offer clean label extraction, transparent third-party testing and grower-direct supply assurance to the food, beverage, pet, nutra and cosmeceutical industries.

Quality Organic Specialty Produce, Grains and Seeds

River Valley Specialty Farms is ideally centered in the rich agricultural land of the Assiniboine River Valley. Location, climate, rich soil and air quality make the land ideal for growing grains and produce like hemp. Our expanding line of natural, healthy and nutritious products, make us the perfect choice for your specialty produce and grains.

ORGANIC AND CONVENTIONAL PRODUCTS

We grow and process hemp seed for bulk ingredient and private label manufacturing. We continue to adhere to the highest food safety protocols, including GMP and GFSI standards. All these benefits, and no middlemen, make us a value-added partner in your supply chain.

RIVER VALLEY SPECIALTY FARMS ADVANTAGES:

-  GENTLE PROCESSING™ – Bacteria Kill Step Method – Our process ensures elimination of pathogenic bacteria, which does not alter the flavor, texture, functionality or color of the River Valley hemp products. It meets the highest standards for a preventive control step and incorporates the HACCP monitoring, required for a kill-step validation.
-  REGENERATIVE ORGANIC FARMING PRACTICES – Our farming promise is to regenerate soils by increasing their organic content and improve their fertility. This model conserves and restores soil by protecting micro and macro-organisms.
-  VERTICAL INTEGRATION – Being both the producer and the processor of our hemp means we can closely manage our supply chain.
-  COMPETITIVE PRICING – Superior supply chain management allows us to offer fair and competitive pricing to our customers.
-  HIGH INVENTORY AND OUTPUT CAPACITY – Managing inventory is vital in offering fresh, on-demand ingredients. Our 70,000 square foot facility allows us to handle up to FCL orders, on a timely basis.
-  QUICK ORDER TURN-AROUND – Excellent customer service is of critical importance. Pallet orders can be accommodated on a 2 week turn-around basis.
-  STRICT ADHERENCE TO REGULATIONS – River Valley holds the coveted Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) certification, ensuring adherence to all relevant food safety and other regulatory standards.
-  POPULAR FEATURES – Our ingredients offer features formulators want, including Gluten-Free, Certified Organic, Kosher, Non-GMO and Ready To Eat (RTE).
-  CONSTANT INNOVATION – River Valley is always seeking new and creative ways to bring high quality product to our customers in bulk quantity.

In addition to our crop land, our facilities include grain storage, coolers, workshops, packaging and food processing facilities, accommodations for up to 80 employees and even buildings available for future expansion.
